ERP

Competition in Project Industries has forced companies to prove themselves in a challenging market environment. Data has turned out to be the most strategic asset, to help identify opportunities for improvement in Project & Site Activities, Budget Control, Sub Contracting works, and more. The ERP gives visibility of Information enabling you to take on-time decisions.

Estimation of all the costs before the start of the project is very important to have an overview of all the costs that will be incurred and decide the source from where they will be taken.

- Tendering and BOQ Management
- Job Costing and Estimation
- Project Budgeting
- Quantity Take Off (QTO)
- Variation to Contract

- Project Management
- Site Activity Management
- Subcontract Management
- Progressive or RA Invoice and Certification
- Inventory and Material Management
- Purchase and Supplier Management
- Project Accounting
- Accounts and Finance Management & More

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Project planning and scheduling is an essential part of the project and this can take many days or weeks to do manually and any human or other error can make a very big difference.

The software gives an in-build tool to set up a project calendar before the start of planning. It creates breakdown activities with dates and progress of tasks. Resources from the BOQ can be tagged against each Work Break Down Activity.

REAL ESTATE

Built to simplify every piece of your business.
Including CRM, Back Office, Lead Generation, Marketing & More make every step from search to sale an intelligent and seamless experience. See how we pair IDX websites, CRM, and back-office tools that help real estate professionals meet the demands of today's challenges.

Technology will never replace the value of real estate agents. We provide the tools you need to automate time-consuming tasks, reach more consumers, and drive your business forward. When it comes to real estate software solutions that make life easier for brokerages, franchises, and teams, there is no shortage of products and services to consider.

Unfortunately, many will offer only a small part of what you're looking for, and others may simply be too clunky to adequately serve your needs.
